

Motivation for WP7 tasks 1 & 2

1. ...to create a roadmap for research and development (spot opportunities, be flexible)
2. ...to bring the experts in the 'Europeana family' together and support this network
 - 20+ projects are running, all of them develop technology
 - More developers in the wider network (i.e. working for/with the 1.500 GLAMs contributing to Europeana)
3. ...to draft and maintain a roadmap for research and development
4. ...test and deploy software

Developers' Network and Inventory (Task 7.1)

- We will establish the EuropeanaTECH network that will actively share expertise and support on a number of key areas.
 - ...specific taskforces
 - ...organisation inspired by W3C
- Create and inventory of applications in the cultural heritage domain that use useful
 - ...spot the gaps

Development of innovative applications for user interaction and UCG (Task 7.2)

- “This task will improve, refactor or develop a number key applications as beneficial to Europeana and the wider European cultural heritage domain. “
- The development will be done by the EuropeanaTECH network, supported by Ev2
 - ...new ICT-PSP projects
 - ...applications will be included in the Europeana annual product and service plans and workplans.
 - ...software will be made available in open source for deployment in- and beyond Europeana.

Europeana Professional

The screenshot shows the homepage of Europeana Professional, a professional knowledge-sharing platform. The header features the Europeana logo with the tagline 'think culture' and the text 'Professional knowledge-sharing platform'. A navigation menu includes links for Home, About Us, News, Provide data, Re-use data, Topics, Calendar, and Contact. Below the header, the main content area is titled 'Aggregate • Facilitate • Distribute • Engage' and includes a search bar, a login/register link, and social media icons. The main text describes the platform's purpose: 'Welcome to Europeana Professional – our professional knowledge-sharing platform. This is a place for facilitating the exchange of information and knowledge about the digitisation of cultural heritage. This site is for people in the heritage sector who want to know more about and find information resources on:' followed by a list of topics such as 'Europeana's main initiatives', 'Europeana's strategic and policy intentions', 'Key legal issues', 'Practical solutions', 'Best practices', 'Metadata standards', 'Data models', 'Technical developments', 'Prototype applications', 'Europeana's major publications', and 'EU's publications on digital initiatives'. A quote from the European Council of Ministers is displayed in a blue box: 'Digitisation and online accessibility are essential ways to highlight cultural and scientific heritage, to inspire the creation of new content and to encourage new online services to emerge. They help to democratise access and to develop the information society and the knowledge-based economy.' Below the quote is a link to the original document. The footer contains a 'Browse by topic' section with links for Advocacy, Content, Data re-use, End users, Legal, Metadata, Project resources, Strategy, Sustainability, and Technology. There are also four sidebars: 'Recently updated topics' with links for Content, Data re-use, Metadata, Sustainability, Advocacy, and Technology; 'Latest news' with a link to a 'Test blog post'; 'Latest tweets' with two tweets from @eup_julien; and 'Contact Us' with the address of the Europeana Office in The Hague, a phone number, and an email address. The footer also includes a Privacy/Terms of Use link, social media icons, and a note that the site is co-funded by the European Union.
